SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

Engineers and architects differ widely in their estimates of the pressure exerted by the wind. In an investigation of the subject, Prof. Karnot. of Melbanras University, has found that some records show wind velocities corresponding to presences of 90 or 100 pounds por square foot, and others give maximum results only a third as great; while, as a matter of fact, great much ra of chimneys and railway cars would be overturned by a pressure of 3) prounds per square foot, yet ther are not courturned but are regarded as perfectly safe. By means of a special apparatus the effect of wlad upon different surfaces was studied. The pressure upon on side of a cabe was found to be 90 per cent; of that no so thin plate of the same area; that upon a lattice ck whose openings were 55 per cent. of the whole area was SU per cent, of that upon a plate of the same, eres that upon comes and cylinders w 650 per cent, of that upon plate equal to the diameter places ; that upon an octagonal prism was 20 per cont greater than that upon a nylinder; and that apon a sphere was 36 per cent, of that apon a thin diss of the same diameter. When a place surface parallel to the direction of the wind was brought nearly into contact with a cylinder or sphere, the pressure on the latter was horeward twenty per cent. Prof. Kernet concludes that to. as a general rule, 20 ponnds per sonara foot should by taken as the miximum wind pressure 7,70.95 upon areas of not less than 300 square feet, and 80 pounds for smaller surfaces in positious of fall exposure.

A life-long study of the effects of age upo mental condition and responsibility was made b Prof. Geo. M. Beard, of New York, who was lot to declare that the golden decade of life is be tween the ages of 30 and 40; the effect depute from 40 to 50; the iron decade, from 50 to 60; the tin decade, from 60 to 70; and the wooden decade from 70 to 80. He found that 71 per cout o the work of the world is done before the ng; of 45. Nearly all the great systems c theology, [metaphysics, and philosophy are the result of work done between 20 and 50 years of age. In animals and plants also middle lit is a golden period. Horses live about 25 years they are at their best from 8 to 14; while dog live 9 to 10 years, and are best for hanting pur poses from 2 to 6 years. Old age is a perio t of moral, as well as physical and mental, decline The changes in the brain from old age much resemble, a diseased condition, says Dr. J. Caldwell, and death in aged persons is mor frequently a process than a sudden event, th process being one of very gradual inorpacitating decline of the mental faculties. An old man may begin to die 10 or 15 years before the actua de th of his body occurs; and, like a tree, b may die beginning at the top and going dow to the trunk ... Moral failure may appear in poevishness, svaridiousness, mannoss, quarrelcomeness, sensuality, revergefulness, or in other ways. For examples of such effects we are referred to the lives of such men's Demosthenes; Barometer Cicero, Sylla, Charles V., Louis XIV., Frederick | Compensature of Prussia, Napoleon, Voltaire, Dr. Samuel John. or Cromwell, Dean Swift, Milton, Lord Bacon, Webster, Horace Greeley, and Ruckin.

Experiments to determine how potato rot recobes the tubers have been made in Ireland. By covering the ground under the leaves of some plants with cottou wool, it was proven that: the spares of the disease pass to the tubers through the soil, and that infection is not; as has been supposed, conveyed through the stem of the potate plant. CLIMATE AND NATIONAL CHARACTER.

If there is one lesson, more fully established by history than any other it is that the president danger to any nation is that of becoming energyt- On London .ed by too easy conditions of life. Everywhere we see the softer nations of mild and tropical climates overthrown, sooner or later, by comparative berbarians from the peighbouring mountains or from some more intospitable region further away. Something of this kind has gone on from the beginning of time. and in spite of all our vaunted advirce in civilisation we may be sare that something of the same kind will go on in the fature. The enervated nations have to give way before these who have been hardened to a more vigorous On New York .manhood by the barder struggle for existence which a cold and inhespitable climate prust always sutail on it is in bitants. Of course On Bombay. the effect of climate on national character dose 'not 'show issidefully in one or two generations, but bere in India we are fam. On CALOUTTA. fir with one aspect of it. In spite of som notable examples to the contrary, most persons will admit that there is, as a general rule some On Shanghardeterioration in energy in Europeans who have lived continuously in the plains of India for two or three generations. It is proverbial that On YokoHAMA-European boys and girls brought up in the enervating climate and under the enervating Ox Manitaconditions of Indian life have less energy and "go" in them than those who have been exposed On Singaronn to the rangher conditions of an upbringing in England: Let the same enervating souditions | Sovensions, Bank's Baying Rate. 3985 probability is that the European of Indie will have lost all the qualities which distinguished his ancestors and enabled them to found an empira id every quarter of the globe. The same matter is touched on in connection with the various colonies by a most able writer in The Times, who has been contributing a series of articles on Canada. In the last of these he draws a contrast between Canada and Australia. They are both comparatively now constrict settled chiefly by persons of Enropean blood. The climatic effects in both have been at work for a few generations only and this only on a portion of the population, as in both there has been a constant influx of new immigrants. Yet there is already a marked Dairy Farm Co. contrast apparent between the populations of the two countries, and one can see traces already. In Canada there is practic Hongkong & C. Gas. cally no labour question, and hard as the struggle Hongkong Electric... for existence is, every one seems to be able to H. H. L. Tramways. make a living. In Australia the unemployed are already a difficulty. The reasons to this contrast are not bard to discover. In the first place, Canada is not erowled; in the west place, the climate squeezes out the 'tramp' and' swugger class-the incorrigible loster who poses as unemployed, while really unwilling to work. For nine months of the year in most parts of Australia, a man of this class can sleep without discomfort under the open sky; there are nearly nine months in Canada when some shelter is a necessity. The Canadian winter exercises upon the tramp a silent, but well nigh irredictible, persuasion to shift to a warm r latitude. It is a permanent barrier to the influx of weaker races." The larg, the idle, and the shiftless are squeezed out of Canada by the climate, whereas in Australia the climate does much to make things very easy for men of this class. But the most ourious point in the whole contrast is that the popular attitude of mind soums to follow the climate in this respect in Canada the man who grambles about want of employment gets but scant sympathy even in the towns. He is told that he ought to go and oultivate a piece of land instead of loaffog about in the fown expecting aid from the State or from private charity. In Australia it is different. The unemployed are there in considerable name bers; they loaf about the towns instead of cultivating the spire lands; and they gramble vary loudly about the want of employment though in many cases they have probably refused employment when it was offered, or have lost their situations through some stupidity, insubording tion or folly. Instead of being disgusted with them, popular opinion in Australia meme to side with them to some extent; to favour more or less socialistic theories of life; a d. as The Times says, to solve the labour question, on principle which, at bottom, involve the negation of the This year's New Malwa 3640 -- 0 to la cattles eacredness of contract and the stability of pri Last year's New Malwa $660 0 to 14 Australian fashion

IMPREI LL QUARTO. DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PROSUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

For comprehentiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the now words which the Chinese have of latey ears been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are 400,000. fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the accents being carefully marked on the best lisplays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the British following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English reserved for the purpose, and mail remity in every words, and upway is of 600,000 Chinese charac- arrangement new greatly facilitates Reference.
